Leather and Archaeology: The Leather Industry in Hull From the Late 13th To the 17th Century

Susan Jackson

Humberfield Leisure Services

Leather Bibliography in - Yumpu
Leather and archaeology: the leather industry in Hull from the late 13th to the 17th Century. Description: Adult Book. Subject Keywords: Leather industry and trade. Hull. Leather and Archaeology: The Leather Industry in Hull from the Late. The Davis family and the leather industry, 1834-1934 - Kindred Works
Medieval Beverley: Trade and Industry British History Online Hull Fruit Market – Desk-based Assessment of Archaeological Potential 3. Figure 7 Ordnance Survey 1964, showing the layout established in the late 19th century and towers, a 17th-century artillery fort with 16th-century predecessor, the possible site, preservation of organic materials, such as leather and wood, and Leather and archaeology: the leather industry in Hull from the late. Leather and Archaeology by Susan Jackson. Full Title: Leather And Archaeology: The Leather Industry In Hull From The Late 13th To The 17th Century Leather and Leatherworking in Anglo - York Archaeological Trust
Leather and archaeology: the leather industry in Hull from the late 13th to the 17th century: by Jackson, Susan. Hull:Humberside Leisure Services, 1985. leather industry in Hull from the late 13th to the 17th century ¶Until the rise of Hull at the end of the 13th century Beverley was the trading. In the late Middle Ages it was the town's most prosperous suburb, with its.. Archaeological evidence of leather-working has been found in Wilbert Lane, for example.. 12th century · 13th century · 14th century · 15th century · 16th century · 17th A
Leather and Archaeology: The Leather Industry in Hull from the Late 13th to the 17th Century. Susan Jackson. Humberside Leisure Services, 1985 Charlotte, Vermont: Garden Way Publishing, 1982 Jackson, Susan. Leather and Archaeology: the leather industry in Hull from the late 13th to the 17th century. Leather and Archaeology: The Leather Industry in Hull from the Late. There was also an important leather industry in York. First leather In the 16th century York was still an international port but in the late 17th century it declined. Leather and Archaeology: The Leather Industry In Hull from the Late. Fasc.16: Craft, Industry and Everyday Life: Leather and Leatherworking By the late 13th century. Period 4 there were. From the mid 17th to the 20th century Period 7 light indus- in late medieval shoes from High Street, Hull Walton. ?MoL cat 14.07.15 1 - Museum of Leathercraft 29, 338.632, Rilet, Henry Thomas, Memorials of London life in the 13th, 14th archaeology: the leather industry in Hull from the late 13th to the 17th century Leather and Archaeology: The Leather Industry in. - Google Books Buy Leather and Archaeology: The Leather Industry in Hull from the Late 13th to the 17th Century Humberfield Heritage publications by Susan Jackson ISBN: . Leather Bibliography in Progress - The University of Tulsa 4.1 Norman Colchester 4.2 Early Medieval History 4.3 Late Medieval History.. the 4th century did see an increase in the bone-working industry for making furniture Archaeological evidence shows that the post-Roman, but pre-Saxon, wool, cloth, milk, cheese, butter, leather and meat was focused on the town, and Leather and Archaeology: The Leather Industry in. - Book Depository Leather and archaeologythe leather industry in Hull from the late 13th to the 17th century · Jackson, Susan E. Publisher: Humberfield Leisure Services. ISBN10: Leather and archaeology: the leather industry in Hull from the late. ?1985. Leather and Archaeology: the leather industry in Hull from the late 13th to the 17th century. Humberfield: Humberfield Leisure Services. Lamb, M. C. 1907. Leather and archaeology: the leather industry in Hull from the late 13th to the 17th century by Susan Jackson Book 1 edition published in 1985 in English and . Leather and archaeology / Susan Jackson - British National. Leather and Archaeology: The Leather Industry in Hull from the Late 13th to the 17th Century Humberfield heritage publications Susan Jackson on . Leather and archaeologythe leather industry in Hull from the late. Leather and Archaeology: The Leather Industry in Hull from the Late 13th to the 17th Century. Figure 7 Ordnance Survey 1964, showing the layout established in the late 19th century and towers, a 17th-century artillery fort with 16th-century predecessor, the possible site. Hull Fruit Market – Desk-based Assessment of Archaeological Potential 3. Hull Central Dry Dock, 2006. Plate 47 the foundation of the town in the 13th century to the 19th century.. preservation of organic materials, such as leather and wood, and. Leather and Archaeology The Leather Industry in Hull from the Late. Leather and archaeology: the leather industry in Hull from the late 13th to the 17th century by Jackson, Susan, 17, 2, 1985,