Sylvia Plath - Sylvia Plath Poems - Poem Hunter Sylvia Plath was born on October 27, 1932, in Boston, Massachusetts. Her mother, Aurelia Schober, was a master's student at Boston University when she met Sylvia Plath's father. After his death, she met Ted Hughes and they married, had two children and then separated. All of this is depicted in Sylvia Plath's poetry. They met at a party in 1956 and were married in 1957. Plath was known for her powerful work, while Hughes was described as being more polished. Plath's first husband, Alix, had a negative influence on her work. Plath's second husband, Ted Hughes, was a poet and was married to her from 1957 until her death in 1963. Plath was living with Hughes in England when she died. She had become increasingly depressed and was admitted to a mental institution in October 1962. She took her own life on February 11, 1963, and Hughes was found dead in a field near the couple's home. Her death was a shock to the literary world and her work continues to be widely read and discussed. The Bell Jar was published less than a month before Sylvia Plath killed herself on 11 February 1963.
