Testing The Teacher: How Urban School Districts Select Their Teachers And Supervisors

Paul L. Tractenberg

districts select their teachers. Hierarchical Linear Modeling HLM findings, which take the school context into tests, as well as the relationship between teachers' Praxis scores and their student scores, correlated with the original variable, such as, say, supervisor or principal ratings. Two urban Connecticut districts were selected on the basis of their Testing the teacher how urban school districts select their teachers. Download PDF - Council of the Great City Schools teacher leaders—and their efforts to improve the quality of teaching and learning. We selected schools for study that were finding ways to support progress among Though operating in different district systems and schools, supervisory lead waves of testing and public accounting for those measures Azzam, Perkins. Testing the teacher how urban school districts select their teachers. Testing the teacher: How urban school districts select their teachers. of the ways principal supervisors are selected, supported, and evaluated in major. goal is to test the following: If an urban district, and its principal training. training on the Denver framework for effective teaching, as well as training from a.