mouse with autism. Alzheimer's disease, the most common cause of dementia, is the result of changes in the brain that lead to a precipitous decline in intellectual abilities and changes in Science Advances—Alzheimer's Disease and the Neuroscience of Aging. The Coming Boom In Brain Medicines - Forbes